

Garner Menchhofer
7546 Eaker Ct Brownsburg
Indiana 46112

To whom it may concern;

I have known Declan Ruiz for 13 years. We met playing flag football and have been great friends ever since. We played football as a quarter back center mix and he took the position of leading and being a hard worker naturally. While being on the field as a great athlete he is also a great student. We have worked in numerous classes and I have seen him take lead and lead through example along with working efficiently. He is always two steps ahead in anything he is working on. He is always looking for challenges and proves this through taking hard classes and competing in one of Indiana's best baseball teams called the Indiana Knights. In high school he took 4 years of engineering courses and the last two years he has taken the hardest classes in the PLTW engineering course, civil engineering, and Engineering, design, and development. These courses are math heavy and a need for time management.

In all Declan is a great student, a very reliable, and a great friend. With his bubbly personality and quick thinking he is the best person for any job.

From

Garner Menchhofer